

WHAT ARE THE GOOD FOOD VALUES?

The businesses in this guide offer food that meets at least two of the four 'good food' values: healthy, fair, sustainably-sourced, and locally-owned.

Healthy

The menu offers fruit/vegetable options, sides or salads prepared healthily; whole grain options; grilled, roasted, baked, or poached entrees; vegetarian-based dishes; low-sodium or heart healthy offerings, and water or unsweetened beverages. *Businesses with an asterisk do not meet ALL of the healthy criteria due to a limited menu, but they do use fruits and vegetables, healthier fats, and whole grains throughout the menu.

Fair

The business embodies fair labor practices by providing benefits and transparent living wage policies beyond minimum legal requirements.

Sustainably - Sourced

The business is proactively working in these sustainability areas: animal welfare (including being vegan or vegetarian), organic ingredients, fair trade, and local sourcing.

Locally - Owned

The business has a valid commercial activity license with the City of Philadelphia and the principal place of business is located in the city.

About

The Philadelphia Food Policy Advisory Council connects Philadelphians and their local government to create a more just food system. We envision that all Philadelphians can access and afford healthy, sustainable, culturally appropriate, local, and fair food. FPAC members and supporters come together for monthly meetings that alternate between general meetings -- all meetings and executive sessions are open to the public.

The Good Food Procurement Subcommittee advises the City of Philadelphia on how to spend its public dollars on 'good food' that improves outcomes for producers, consumers, and the environment. The subcommittee educates and guides key governmental purchasers to develop innovative procurement approaches and establish relationships with regional businesses to increase supply and purchasing of good food.
